Product description:

Robert Parker's Wine Advocate (Neal Martin - déc. 2015) : 89/100. "The 2014 Bourgogne Aligoté Clos du Roy comes from vines planted on red soils. This has a more earthy, chalky bouquet that opens nicely in the glass. The palate is clean and fresh, the sensation of acidity quite sharp, although Sylvain told me that the analysis would show that the values are normal. Lovely lemon sherbet on the finish, this is a lively and hugely enjoyable Aligoté that I would partner with seafood."

Drink Date: 2016-2021.
